

All owners of highly profitable beef businesses have one thing in common...

They have made the effort to acquire the business skills needed to create wealth. Those skills are different to those needed to manage the herd and they are not hard to learn.

Highly profitable beef businesses appear when the owners pay as much attention to the business as the herd. These businesses are so good that they can provide for all the family needs and aspirations into the future.

In short, their beef businesses are bullet proof. Yours can be too...

WHAT YOU WILL LEARN

In this 2-day BusinessEDGE workshop specifically designed for beef businesses, you will learn how to:-

- ✓ Determine if your business is economically sustainable in the long term or not, and what to do about it.
- ✓ Determine if all the family needs and aspirations can be funded by the business.
- ✓ Determine if your debt is creating or destroying wealth and how much of it your business can afford.
- ✓ Provision and plan for succession and retirement so that each event is fully funded.
- ✓ Allocate rationally for capital expenditure projects so that assets increase in value over time and cash flows improve.
- ✓ Determine if your herd is performing as it should and what to do about it if it is not.

And so much more
